AUGIE BASKET RACE BETWEEN SENIORS, SOPHS

Seniors Have Close Call With Juniors—Sophes Favored to Win This Friday Night.

Two to go, the Seniors defeated the Juniors last evening in the semi-final game of the Augustana college inter-class basketball tournament by a score of 18 to 7.

The victory of the upper classmen, however, was not as decisive as was expected, the game being a neck-to-neck race up to the last five minutes of play.

Up to that time the Juniors held the Seniors to a tie game, 7 to 7, but the upper classmen rallied and dropped in two field baskets and a foul.

Hard to Beat. The Juniors played real basketball and at times completely outclassed their rivals, having chances time and again to drop the ball through the hoop.

Two teams, the Seniors and Sophomores, now remain in the tournament, and the final game between these two surviving teams is scheduled for tomorrow evening at 7:30.

Pick Sophes to Win. According to general opinion and dope, the Sophes are expected to defeat the Seniors.

Mike Grind Almost Ends in Free-All in Excitement Over "Shot" Heard.

New York, Dec. 9.—The annual six-day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden came near breaking up in a free-for-all fight early today when a sound which some described as a "shot" startled several hundred bike fans.

After quiet had been restored by police, only a few minor casualties were in evidence. Two men were arrested. Police placed credence in an explanation of the fight's start that it began when two men disagreed over the ownership of a chair.

At 8 a. m., the 18th hour, Brocco and Coburn still led with 1,304 miles and 7 laps. Debatas and Perayn and Van Hovel and Vandenberg, 1,304 miles and 6 laps. Six teams were tied at 1,304 miles. Spears and Lawrence were tied at 1,304 miles and 2 laps. Brocco was leading.

HOPPE TO MEET BELGIAN CHAMP EARLY IN YEAR

Truth Is At Least As Strange As Fiction; Read About Stan Keck

BY LORRY A. JACOBS.

New York, Dec. 9.—Not all really heroic deeds and acts of great gameness ended when the armistice was signed. Not by any means. And it has remained for the football season to produce a play that should stamp Stanley Keck, giant tackle of the Princeton team, not only as one of the greatest players of many years, but as possessing real courage and sportsmanship of the kind that the poets sing about in war time.

When Princeton, raging like the Tigers they are, twice crossed Harvard's line in their annual battle and all but defeated the mighty Crimson warriors, one team was practically responsible for both touchdowns, although he made neither.

And there he stood. For Keck had a chance to make both and thereby win himself great glory. But there was also a chance that he might miss, and so, his brain working like lightning, he figured that he had best sidetrack personal glory and make the scores more sure.

But the strangest part of all is that published a month or so before the Harvard-Princeton game was a stirring football story. It was called "Touchdown to Go," by J. G. B. Morse, and was presented in "The Open Road, the Magazine for Young Men," a Boston publication.

AND IN THIS STORY WAS THE DESCRIPTION OF A PLAY THAT WAS LIKE KECK'S IN ALMOST EVERY DETAIL. Read the two accounts—one of the truth and the other fiction—and judge for yourself Keck's greatness.

TRUTH BY EDDIE HURLEY. Sporting Editor, the Boston Record. Keck's really brilliant play came in the third period. The period was nearing the limit when Harvard decided to kick. George Owen went back, prepared to get off a long spiral.

Keck crashed through the line when the ball was snapped. He smashed his way toward Owen, who was in the act of getting off one of his long kicks. The punt was blocked. The ball rolled toward the goal line.

Owen did not hesitate. Neither did Keck. They started in pursuit of the ball. It was neck and neck! But Owen's speed was finally asserting itself. It looked as though the Newton boy would be the first to reach the ball.

Even Keck realized this fact to be true. His speed might not compare to the fleetness of the Harvard back. Keck immediately gave up all hope of recovering the ball although he had as good a chance as Owen for doing so as Owen. But he decided that Owen would not recover it either.

His Sacrifice. Owen was ready to pounce upon the ball. Just as he was preparing himself to spring, Keck hit him from behind and the Harvard man rolled across the goal line with Keck after him.

Then Le Grondre, the Princeton end, who was closely following Keck and Owen, pounced on the ball and recovered it on Harvard's 5-yard line. And a minute or so later the ball was over the line for a Princeton touchdown. The second of the game. And so it was that Stanley Keck passed up his claim to plaudits in order that he might be sure of his team's greater glory.

DAVENPORT II PICKS LEADER

Kloppenberg, Reliable Halfback, Is Chosen to Lead Iowa's Next Year.

Ralph Kloppenberg, halfback on the 1920 Davenport high school football squad, was elected captain for the coming season at a meeting of the letter men held last night in the Davenport high school.

Fourteen players were also given their emblems for their work during the late season. Kloppenberg is the first captain to be elected in the tri-cities. Due to a new ruling in Illinois that forbids players to receive emblems unless they stay eligible until the end of the term the election of a captain and the award of letters in Rock Island has been postponed until the end of the semester in January.

Almost all of the letter men on the Davenport squad graduate and the outlook for a championship team across the river is not as strong as it has been in the past years.

Line Stars Remain. Both Krasuski and Stetson will be back to bolster up the line and were eligible to the captaincy. The position was given Kloppenberg because of his length of service and as Stetson is captain of this year's basketball squad.

Following are the men who were awarded letters last night: Captain Layden, Captain-elect Kloppenberg, Schick, Vollmer, Kerns, Stetson, R. Koch, G. Koch, Curley, Marks, Goddard, Krasuski, Quinn and Craig.

TERRIN-THORPE BOUT PROMISES HIGHEST CLASS

Headliners for Davenport Show Next Thursday Are Praised by Des Moines Boxing Writer

One of the best balanced cards offered tri-city pugilistic fans in recent months will be staged by the Davenport American Legion at the Biltmore theater on the night of Dec. 15.

Sammy Terrin, Mike McNulty's prize welterweight, and Harvey Thorpe of Kansas City, will figure in the 10-round windup; Jack Racer, who defeated Frank Schoerbroek of Rock Island, in the last card across the river, will clash with Battling Johnson of Elmer in a six-round bout, will mix with Kelly of Davenport, will clash with Randall Kent, the clever, Moline lad, in the welterweight preliminary bouts. One other four-round will be on the card.

A Promising Bout. The Terrin-Thorpe battle promises to be one of the most sensational fights staged in a tri-city ring in recent months. The welterweight bout, and according to Jack North of the Des Moines Tribune, the bout was the best ever staged in the Capital city.

BRITISH BOXERS TAKE EXCEPTION TO YANKEE PUGS

Tommy Gibbons Relates Attitude of Britishers Abroad.

BY TOMMY GIBBONS. (Challenger for the Heavyweight Championship.) St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 9.—My manager, Eddie Kane, in a recent article discussed a few of the difficulties which we had last spring during our visit to London in search of bouts. Kane compared our troubles with the ease with which foreign boxers are able to get bouts and real money in the United States, and the purpose of this article is to make public a few personal experiences for the first time.

I fought much to my sorrow, that British boxers and their managers sharply resent the invasion of Americans. There seems to be a general belief in British boxing circles that American toughs are too good for English boxers of the light heavyweight and heavyweight classes, and should stay on the other side of the water.

Enroute to England I made a very serious blunder, and the news of that incident preceded me. Kane and I sailed from New York for Plymouth on May 19. We quickly learned that the passengers included Joe Beckett's former sparring partner. Most of the officers and sailors on board were Englishmen, but a considerable number of the passengers were Americans. It was suggested that I could have training quarters, and arrangements were made to give me several workouts with the British boxer, whose name I cannot recall at this moment.

We had four workouts and big gloves were used. The gloves were not freak affairs with most of the padding at the wrists. They were well padded about the knuckles. Three of our workouts ended rather abruptly, and as a consequence of these knockouts, which I scored, it was noticeable that I lost some popularity among the British contingent. I thought little of the incident at the time.

Praise for Writers. When we landed at Plymouth I talked with several newspaper men who seemed anxious to assist me in obtaining a bout. In this connection I want to say that British sport writers were very fair in every respect, and during my short stay over there I never had cause to complain regarding their treatment. But sport writers in London do not have as much influence as they have in this country.

One of these writers told me that Boy McCormick, with whom I had boxed a draw at Portland, Ore., in February, had posted 500 pounds to box any heavyweight in England, preferably Beckett. The announcement of this challenge referred to McCormick's American tour and stated that he had won a decision over me. Upon my arrival in London, I went to the Sporting News with Eddie Kane and presented proofs to show that the decision in the Portland fight was a draw.

The sport editor said he would arrange a meeting with McCormick, but the meeting never materialized. The only information could be obtained was that "Mac" had a sore nose. Acceptance of his challenge was ignored, and although I offered to box for a reasonable sum, it was impossible to obtain a match.

TY COBB CONFERS WITH NAVIN OVER CLUB LEADERSHIP

Detroit, Dec. 9.—(United Press.)—Ty Cobb, Detroit baseball star, whom President Frank Navin is endeavoring to induce to accept the Tiger management, will confer with Navin in New York tomorrow, it was said at Navin's office here today.

Navin said he expected to discuss the matter with Cobb and lay plans for the 1921 season. It is expected that Detroit will pick its training site as soon as the management question is settled.

Navin believes Cobb will accept the management.

SENIORS TAKE BASKET TITLE; BEATING SOPHS

Fourth-Year Five C's High School Basketball Interclass Meet—Freshmen Lose.

BY "ALHAI AL." The Seniors snatched the championship away from the Sophomores last night in an extra five-minute period played at the end of the tie game. The Sophs led until the last few minutes, when the fourth-year students cornered a basket and tied the score. In the extra period, the Soph defense weakened and the Seniors finally won by the score of 33-19.

The game between the Juniors and Freshies was also a hard-fought affair. At the end of the first half, the first-year team was leading, 11-1, but in the last round the Juniors fought back and were victors by the count of 17 to 13.

Following is the standing of the classes at the end of the tournament:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Seniors	3	0	1.000
Sophomores	2	1	.667
Juniors	1	2	.333
Freshmen	0	3	.000

This is the first tournament for a long time in which the Juniors have been compelled to drop below the Sophomores. Two years ago all three of the upper classes were tied for first place, each having registered one defeat on the other and the Freshies, and having been defeated once themselves. The Sophs this year, however, had a strong organization and almost defeated the Seniors for the title.

Although the number of students that attended the games was small compared to the crowds of past years, the tournament was a decided success. It gave the coach a line on the basketball material in the school and got many of the players out that might never have tried for the team. Davenport, Duncan, Hall, Edwards and Alvino were some of the new men who showed up well in the class tournament.

Sophs Take Lead. The Sophs had the Juniors bested from the start and outplayed the older "studies" in the first half. At the end of the round the score was 18-7 in the Sophs' favor. The Seniors staged a comeback in the last round and allowed their opponents two free throws, besides amazing quite a few points themselves.

The Sophs were ahead with a two-point lead up until the last few minutes, when the Seniors rolled in another basket and tied the score, 19-19. In the extra period the Seniors ran riot with their opponents and scored seven points by the end of the game.

The Junior-Freshman game was a farce in the first half. The Junior scoring machine could not start and the count stood 11 to 1 against the third-year class when the half ended. In the last period the Freshmen were outclassed and the Juniors finally won by the score of 17-13.

The Lineups. Following are the lineups: Seniors (28)—Duncan, rf; Rosenkrantz, lf; Henke, c; Masters, rg; Lambert, lg.

Sophomores (19)—Davenport, rf; Edwards, lf; Hall, c; Little, rg; Alvino, lg.

Wake Up in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Why Everyone Should Drink Hot Water Each Morning Before Breakfast.

To see the healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer, clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a heavy breath; in fact, to feel better, day in and day out, just take a little hot water every morning before breakfast.

Before breakfast each day drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate. It is a harmless means of washing out the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and other poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach. The action of the hot water and limestone phosphate is invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a fine appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to purify the system. Those who are afflicted with constipation, biliousness, acid stomach, rheumatism, or whose skin is sallow or who have their hair looking and feeling better every day. (Adv.)

Long Spring Training Due For Cutting Next Season

Increased Prices Blamed

BY HENRY L. FARRELL. (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Dec. 9.—Short training trips probably will be an innovation of the preparations for the 1921 major league season.

Miller Huggins, the sawed-off manager of the New York Yankees, is the first out with training plans indicating a departure from the custom of long tedious training.

Hugh Duffy, the new pilot of the Boston Red Sox, also says he will not keep his squad at work for a protracted period in the south.

High Rates Blamed. High hotel rates, along with increasing prices for other accommodations, are making training seasons very expensive for the managers and from a physical standpoint trainers are becoming convinced that more harm than good results from long work in the spring.

Pat Moran had a lamentable experience last year at Miami with his Cincinnati Reds. During a long stay in that fashionable place the Reds found time to do things other than train and it was mid-season before some of them reached form.

Exhibitions Cut. Fewer exhibition games between the clubs will be staged this spring. While it has been found a good way to bring in money to help foot the bills, the players object to a series of "one day stands." The New York Giants suffered by their long series of games last spring. It is also a dangerous undertaking as the Yankees discovered last spring when Cliff Fawcett, one of their most promising youngsters, was put out for the season by a pitched ball from Jeff Pfeiffer, the Brooklyn last ball pitcher.

Several to Play. Some few games will be staged, however. The Yanks and the Dodgers will play around Shreveport, where the Yanks will train and Tris Speaker wants the Giants to come to Dallas for some exhibition games with his world champion Indians.

On the subject of spring training, it will be interesting to watch the attitude of Ty Cobb, if he is named

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be soft, lustrous, glossy, silky and smooth, and look and feel a hundred times better. (Adv.)

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is one of the greatest advantages. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your hair with a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.
